July-August 2019 Delaware County Democratic Party Newsletter Vol 2, No 3

Word From the Chair

Peg Watkins, Chair

Money!

The bad news is that there's a lot of money being raised for political purposes – at every level. Every day, I'm getting multiple requests for money from the national Democratic party, the state Democratic party, as well as individual candidates. And I'm sure you are, too.

The good news is that smaller contributions make a significant impact at the local level. Delaware County Democratic Party is stepping up – we have more candidates, more training available, and more professional assistance for our candidates. We also have wonderful volunteers and those who contribute financially.

Our third Catch a Rising Star event had record attendance AND netted more than $9,000! (See Julie's article for details.) Our speakers were enthusiastically received by those in attendance. Many individual conversations were started that will lead to follow up meetings. Word is out, and will spread that there are active Democrats in this county. If you missed it, you can still enjoy the photos posted here.

But we must keep on raising funds - for our party as well as for candidates. To those of you who are making monthly contributions, please accept my thanks on behalf of the party. If you are not already a monthly contributor, please consider a $5, $10, $25, or $50 regular monthly commitment. If you are not yet a dues-paying member, just go here to sign up and make any contribution you can. Every dollar helps.

Yes, we can make gains this year that will support us next year. In order to show our appreciation for Democrats who take on the challenge of running for office in Delaware County, the rest of us need to do all that we can to support them. If we can elect Emma Jones as Municipal Court Clerk, she would become the only COUNTYWIDE elected Democratic official in Delaware County. In 2020, there will be additional opportunities to run for county offices and break the local GOP stranglehold. The gains our other local candidates (see 2019 candidate list below) make this year will also strengthen us for 2020.

Finally, THANK YOU to everyone reading this for doing what you do – whether a little or a lot, each of us is contributing in some way, and that is our strength.

- Peg

	Please take a quick one-question survey about which Democratic Presidential candidate you would vote for if the election were held today. We'll publish the results in the next newsletter and on Facebook.

DelCo Candidate Spotlight

Delaware County Candidates for Westerville City Council

Aileen Wagner – Candidate Spotlight

Aileen Wagner launched her first public service efforts at the age of 11 when she organized a successful petition drive that prevented proposed traffic changes that would have endangered the safety of her friends and neighbors. Her commitment to improving her community has only grown in the thirty years since then.

As a small-business owner and educator, Aileen works to develop quality educational materials for students. She has taught in schools around central Ohio and earned a teaching license in 7–12 grade social studies from Ohio Dominican University. Prior to starting her publishing services company, Walnut Bend Creative, Aileen worked as an editor at McGraw-Hill, the job that brought her to Westerville in 2005.

Ken Wright – Candidate Spotlight

It wasn't long after Ken and his family arrived in Westerville in 2005 that he realized just how special the city could be. Ken saw first-hand the appreciation and genuine love that the citizens of Westerville have for their city. It was infectious.

While Ken had already spent years working in community engagement, he decided to focus more of his time on Westerville and the surrounding areas. Ken serves as the Director of Research and Planning for IMPACT Community Action, an organization dedicated to reducing poverty by providing hope-inspiring help and real opportunities for self-sufficiency. In this role Ken has the opportunity to touch the lives of people in need and help them move out of poverty.

A Stellar Evening!

Stars Aligned for Boffo Party Fundraiser

The stars were aligned on July 18 for the third annual Catch a Rising Star fundraiser. The Delaware County Democratic Party held the most successful fundraiser in party history, hosting 100 guests who helped deliver record net proceeds of $9,194.

The elegant Scioto Reserve Country Club in Powell was the backdrop for powerful speeches delivered to an enthusiastic crowd. Franklin County Recorder Danny O'Connor (right), Dublin Ohio House Representative Dr. Beth Liston, and Ohio Democratic Party Vice-Chair, Rhine McClin were warmly received by the guests. The speakers graciously mingled with guests both before and after their addresses from the podium. Local candidates were also present showing their party support and talking to voters.

Upon arrival, guests were entertained by Columbus jazz guitarist Mike McGannon. Other highlights of the evening were chances to ham it up in the photo booth (like Karen Rainey and granddaughter Sofia at left), and bidding on an array of silent auction items. A surprise donation from Danny O'Connor of OSU football tickets spurred a spirited live auction. Total proceeds from the auctions were $1,402.

Updates from the DelCo BoE

Board of Elections (BoE) Update: Anthony Saadey (right), Delaware County BoE Deputy Director, provides insight on how the Voter Purge and Hacking impacts Delaware County,

The official name of the “voter purge” is the General Voter Records Maintenance Program. A recent Supreme Court ruling authorized local Boards of Election to reinstate a process that started in 2015.

This July, our office mailed a “Last Chance” Notice to 3,008 voters who had been mailed a similar notification in 2015. At that time, the criteria were no voter activity from 2012 to 2014 (included two federal elections). The Notice informed the voter that if they wished to remain on the voter rolls, they were required to either return the completed Confirmation Notice or have some form of voter activity within the next four years. Between 2015 and 2019, no voters were purged, but those receiving the notice did have the opportunity to update their voting record.

How to Change Citizens United

American Promise – What Can Ohio Do About Citizens United?

Since the Supreme Court’s 2010 “Citizens United” decision, money in politics has been an increasing factor in shaping public policy, often against the will of the American people. The ruling meant that corporations have the same right to free speech as persons, and that campaign spending is a form of free speech, thereby making PACs legal to collect campaign/candidate funding without identification of donors.

Citizens United has often been considered difficult if not impossible to overcome. But an effort is underway to do just that. American Promise is a leader in the proposal for a constitutional amendment (28th Amendment) that would negate Citizens United. Its website, americanpromise.net, provides useful perspective.

DCDP Member Spotlight

This issue's Member spotlight: Nancy Cline

Where are you from? I am from Elkhorn, Wisconsin. Bill and I became pen pals when I was still living in the state. We were married in 1972 and moved to Garrettsville, Oh. After living there for several years, we moved to Delaware to be closer to our grandchildren.

How did you get involved in politics? I got involved in politics in the last Obama election. After meeting President Obama, I knew I wanted to get involved. I hope to make a difference in my granddaughters' lives by electing a Democrat to be the next president.

How are you involved with the Party? When we moved to Delaware, I happened to be in town one day and found my way to headquarters. I enjoy my volunteer time at headquarters, especially at election time, doing my best to help candidates win.

What do you do in your spare time? When we are not busy, I enjoy reading and Bill and I also like to go fishing together.

Your message? Our country is headed in the wrong direction right now. As Democrats, we have to come together and elect the person who will get us pointed in the right direction.

Does Impeachment Make Sense

On July 16, the Forum: Is Impeachment Inevitable or Avoidable? was held in Delaware County at the Quest Conference Center on the question of whether or not to impeach President Trump. DelaDem Mindy Hedges was instrumental in organizing the event along with sponsors: indivisible: Ohio District 12 and indivisible: Delaware Ohio.

Experts on the panel focused their presentations on key issues such as: when is it time to remove a leader and what must Congress do to oversee the Executive branch? The Forum was moderated by Mike Larsen, a nationally known political satirist who has written for Real Time with Bill Maher, The Drew Carey Show, Ellen, and many other programs.
